

2014 - 2015 Program Overview

Dear Educators,

Thank you for participating in the Six Flags® Read to Succeed Six Hour Reading Club!

Here are important program guidelines for you to know:

- Only schools with students in grades K through 6 are eligible to participate.
- Student Reading Logs and program materials are available in your online account in the TEACHER TOOLBOX tab.
- Students must complete six hours (360 minutes) of recreational reading to earn one FREE Six Flags ticket.
- Students can read books, magazines, newspapers, eBooks or comic books. Reading for homework or a class assignment does NOT count.
- The Student Reading Log and Parent Letter will have a fill-in-the-blank area for you to write the date you want the students to return the Reading Log back to you. We suggest the students return the Reading Log to you in early February. You will need to remind your students and parents to return the Reading Logs back to you on time. You must enter each student who completed the program in your online account by the program deadline, March 2, 2015. Late entries will NOT be accepted.
- Each school will need one registered Coordinator. The Coordinator will earn a FREE Teacher Ticket for facilitating the program at their school. The coordinator can be a teacher or school employee, such as the librarian or media specialist or even a parent volunteer. Coordinators are not responsible for registering each teacher. However, the coordinator can register the teachers, if that is how you choose to run the program at your school. Teachers must have their students added into their accounts by the deadline. The coordinator does not need to enter every student. However, the coordinator can enter the students for the teachers, if that is how you choose to run the program at your school. But the students MUST be entered under the correct teacher's account for the teachers to earn their ticket.
- Educators who teach grades K through 6 can register. Teachers who have at least one student who completes the program can earn a FREE Teacher Ticket by entering their student information in their online account.
- There are two parts to the program, the handwritten part and the online part. Both need to be completed to earn tickets.
 1. The Student Reading Logs are handwritten by the students/parents as they log their minutes from reading. Students need to turn the logs into their teacher. Teachers/coordinators will NOT have to mail the handwritten Student Reading Logs to Six Flags. However, we do ask that teachers save the completed Student Reading Logs in a safe place for future reference. We may also conduct periodic reviews of Student Reading Logs, so please keep the Student Reading Logs in your files.
 2. Educators will need to register online if they did not participate last year. Those who registered last year, can log into their account and confirm their information is correct or make any necessary edits. Once you are registered, you will have an online account. You will need to enter your students' names and total hours they have read in your online account. If your school coordinator enters the students' names and hours in their online account, you WILL NOT get the credit for having your students complete the program, and you WILL NOT earn a FREE Teacher Ticket. YOU need to enter your own students in YOUR online account to earn a FREE Teacher Ticket.
- Begin the program as soon as registration opens in the fall to give your students plenty of time to read the required six hours.
- Give yourself enough time to complete the online submission well before the deadline.
